CURIOUS WAGERS.

EXAMPLES OF "FOOLS' ARGUMENTS" OUT OF THE MUSTY PAST.

Men Who Made Shows of Themselves to Win Bets—Laying Large Sums on the Result of Trifling Affairs—A Race Between Drops of Water.

It has been remarked that "a collection of foolish wagers would make a voluminous work;" and so odd are some of these "fools' arguments," as Butler pithily terms them in his "Hudibras," that a selection of some of the most curious may prove not uninteresting.

During the last century, when, particularly in club life, the least difference of opinion frequently ended in a bet, many remarkable and eccentric wagers were made.

In 1729 a poulterer of Leadhead market betted £50 he would walk 202 times round the area of Upper Moor-fields in twenty-seven hours; and accordingly proceeded at the rate of five miles an hour on the amusing pursuit, "to the infinite improvement of his business and great edification of hundreds of spectators."

To characterize the follies of the day it will be necessary to add to the account of the walking man another of a hopping man, who engaged, in December, 1731, to hop 500 yards in fifty hops in St. James' park. He performed the feat in forty-six.

TRIALS OF ST. ED.

In February, 1770, a bet was laid by a noble earl that he should find a man who would ride to Edinburgh and back again to London in less time than another noble earl should make a million dots in the most expeditious manner he could contrive.

In September, 1789, a Col. Ross set out from London for York, on a wager with a Mr. Pigot of 800 guineas that he reached his destination in forty-eight hours on the same horse. He performed the journey three hours within the time.

On the 17th of May, 1817, a respectable farmer of Kirtton-Lindsay, for a wager of a few pounds, undertook to ride a pony up two pairs of stairs into a chamber of the George inn and down again, which feat he actually performed before a numerous company, whose astonishment was heightened by the rider being upward of eleven stone weight and his horse less than thirty stone. They were weighed after the feat, to decide another wager.

In The Annual Register for 1788 we find the following: "A young Irish gentleman, for a very considerable wager, set out on Monday, Sept. 22, to walk to Constantinople and back again in one year. It is said that the young gentleman has £20,000 depending on the performance of the exploit."

The Earl of March, on laying a bet that he would cause a message to be dispatched a certain distance quicker than any horse could convey it, won his wager by inclosing the message in a cricket ball, which was thrown from hand to hand by relays of professional cricketers. As Duke of Queensberry, he betted 1,000 guineas that he would produce a man who would eat more at a meal than any one whom Sir John Lade could find. The Duke was informed of his success—not being present at the achievement—by the following bulletin from the field of battle: "My lord, I have not time to state particulars, but merely to acquaint your grace that your man beat his antagonist by an apple pie."

BETTING ON DEATH.

At White's coffee house, where, during the last century, gaming was carried on to heavy amounts, a book was always laid upon the table for catering wagers upon the deaths of the great, some of which still exist, may be found bets on all conceivable subjects: on marriages, births, deaths; on the duration of a ministry, on the chance of an election, on a rascal's risk of the halter or the shock of an earthquake.

Walpole, writing to Sir Horace Mann, Sept. 1, 1750, says: "They have put into the papers a good story made at White's. A man dropped down dead at the door and was carried in. The club immediately made bets whether he was dead or not; and when they were going to bleed him, the wagers for his death intervened, and said it would affect the fairness of the bet."

Certain it is that during this period no subject appears to have been too serious for a bet; and that nothing was considered too trivial a medium, the following lines, founded on fact, bear witness:

The Bucks had died, and deep in council sat:
Their wine was brilliant, but their wit grew flat.
Up starts his lordship to the window flies,
And lo! "A race! a race!" in rapture cries.
"Who?" quoth Sir John—"Why, see two drops of rain
Start from the summit of the crystal pane;
A thousand pounds which drop, with nimblest force,
Performs its current down the slippery course."
The bets were made; in due suspense they wait
For victory, pendant on the end of fate.
Now down the sash, unconscious of the prize,
The bubbles roll, like pearls from Chloe's eyes.
But, ah! the glittering joys of life are short;
Now out two jostling steeds have spoiled the sport!

So, thus attraction, by coercive laws,
Th' approaching drops into one bubble draws.
Each earnest his fate that thus their project crosses,
Now hard their lot, who neither won nor lost!

Treatment of Burns.

A physician writes: "Quite often I see formulas for the treatment of burns. As I have been burned all over my body, excepting the soles of my feet, upon which I stood while being burnt, so severely that twelve physicians said I could not live, you will see why I am so interested in such formulas. Please say from me that the free use of salt soap upon a fresh burn will remove the fire from the flesh in less time than it takes to write these words. If the burn be severe, after relief from the pain use linseed oil, and then sift upon it wheat flour. When this is dried hard, repeat the oil and flour until a complete covering is obtained. Let this dry until it falls off, and a new skin will be formed without a scar. This treatment leaves nothing more to be desired."—Herald of Health.

WHEN HE STRUCK TOWN.

He had eaten tallow candles in the desert of Sahara.
He had fought the wild hyena in the jungle of the East.
He had probed a splintered spear in the line of battle.
And had lived a year in China, where he scalped a native priest.
He had wrestled with the fever in the swamps of Upper China.
And had taught the people of the far to the Czar of all the Turke.

Once in Zanzibar he married a dusky diamond miner.
And he'd loved a month in Persia paddling a native bagger's works.
He had skinned the cannibals by dark Africa's sluggish river.
He had lived on monkey catenae in the South Pacific Isles.
He had figured in a duel by the Harp's Gaid.
And had speared the Turke maidens by Lis pond and lovely meads.

He had been a money lender 'neath the Himalaya banners.
He had played a tarant organ 'neath the fair Italian skies.
He had hunted sheep and fawns in the Colorado canyons.
And he shot the Jersey 'tween, Railway birds of Paradise.

But the bunco stealer caught him, and he bought a bar of copper.
That was truly overplated with a dollar's worth of gold.
While the cabman stopped and filled him with an entertaining whooper.
And then borrowed twenty dollars on the strength of what he told.

He was suddenly run over by a whiskey burdened driver.
And a copper came and wheeled him and treacherous were his paths.
And he promptly paid the surgeon the initiative fever.
For the hospital expenses of a public ambulance.

The wires electric struck him and he almost climbed to glory.
And a guano caught assailed him and deprived him of his purse.
Then an elevator dropped him from the twenty seventh story.
And his hair turned soft and snowy when he heard the newsboy's curse.

So he packed his traps and luggage in a mad do termination.
To escape from a community that fights for every bone;
Now he cruises on a zealous and fierce exterminator.
Of the unsavory stations in the chill Antarctic zone.

Three Big Bags.
Charlie Smiley, of the Glaxton company, is full of stories. He tells one of a street gambler who had cut his ragged cap before Lord Randolph Churchill and Sir Charles Beresford as they came slowly down the steps of a London club. "What are you begging for, boy?" asked Beresford, as he noticed the little fellow. The boy said he had nothing else to do. "See here," said Lord Randolph, "if you'll take that stone and hit that policeman in the back of the head I'll give you half a crown." Nothing but the boy picked up the stone and let her go. His was true and the "bobby" turned in wrath, chased the gambler and captured him. Shaking him savagely he demanded why he should insult the majesty of the law as represented in his person so grossly. The boy whined that the two gentlemen, who were looking on very much amused, had offered him half a crown to do it. He would give him one and six if he would release him. Dragging the boy up to the two men he demanded to know what they meant, and asked their names. Sir Charles Beresford handed the "bobby" his card. When he read it he humbly touched his hat and begged pardon. Then he asked Sir Randolph Churchill's name. He, too, handed his card, and the gambler had the same effect. "You great gentles must have your larks," he said, touching his helmet. "Now, sir," he said turning to the gambler, "what's your name?" The boy looked up at him, after eyeing the great men, and said, sticking his thumbs in the armpits of his ragged vest, "I'm Lord Salisbury."

DEMOCRATIC HOPES.

Colored Congressmen Hold the Balance of Power and Will Use It.

WASHINGTON, July 13th.—North Carolina politicians are talking of a scheme which, if carried out, will affect the control of the next Congress. Congressman Brewer has already been announced as a candidate for the Speakership, and it is said he will refuse to go into the Republican caucus and will be supported in his refusal by the new colored Republican member from his own State, a white Republican from Tennessee, and the white Republican from Louisiana. They will stay out of the caucus, the politicians say, because they are profoundly dissatisfied with the treatment they have received from President Harrison.

If these four Republicans should bolt, it would enable them to make their own terms before they permitted the election of a Republican Speaker. The contemplation of such a complication will make the Republicans more than ever eager to capture every member from the four new States.

To be Painted White.

It was wired the other day that the Secretary of the Navy had ordered all the war ships of the United States to be painted white. Now the reason for the order comes in the Philadelphia Times as follows: It has been found that iron and steel vessels, when painted black, have been unnecessarily hot, and to do away with this discomfort, as well as to improve the looks of the vessel, white has been decided upon as the color for the navy. Especially in this color considered a serviceable one when cruisers are doing duty in tropical climates. The coat of white will do much to prevent the absorption of heat that these vessels are liable to, and thereby greatly increase the comfort of officers and crew, and improve the sanitary condition of the vessel.

A Free Patent Medicine Advertisement.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 13.—It is stated that H. H. Warner & Co. are negotiating for the sale of their proprietary medicine business to English capitalists, including their immense buildings and business at this point, together with branches in London, Frankfurt, Melbourne, Toronto, Sydney, Pressburg and other places. The price is said to be $5,000,000.

The Agricultural Bureau has just published a report of the number of sheep in the United States in January, 1889, as compared with the returns of 1884. Strange as it may appear, a marked decline is shown in every group of States except two. There is a falling off of eight millions in the aggregate number of sheep for this year. The exception to the general rule occurs in the group of Western States west of the Mississippi river, including Colorado and Montana, and in the group of four territories, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah and Idaho. Nebraska shows a slight advance over 1884, her sheep numbering three hundred and forty-two thousand. But the greatest increase is credited to Montana and Utah, where the extraordinary gain of one million sheep in each of the Territories took place. Nevertheless the showing for the country is not at all flattering, and indicates that in spite of high protection the wool industry has declined fully fifteen per cent. within the past five years.

The Territorial Convention of Washington Territory has put in a clause that the Executive Department shall consist of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer and Superintendent of Public Instruction. Senators are to be chosen for six years. The salary of the Governor is fixed at $5,000, Secretary of the Treasury $3,000, Chief Justice $5,000, Justice of the Supreme Court $4,000. The Commissioner of Public Printing is appointed.

Bandmaster Sousa, of the Marine Band, has been directed by the Navy Department to compile and score, for the use of bands on the United States vessels, all the national, nautical and people's songs. These will be issued in book form shortly. This collection will be the only thing of the kind ever published. The British and French Governments have issued their songs, but neither Government's work is so complete, in a national sense, as the scheme which will be carried out by Bandmaster Sousa.

Charles Price, the man whom President Harrison has appointed United States District Attorney for the Western District of North Carolina, was formerly a Democrat, and about ten years ago was the Democratic Speaker of the North Carolina House. The appointment is received as a recognition of the new element of the Southern Republican party.

An increase in the gross earnings of the Northern Pacific of $1,543,992 is estimated. The net increase is $800,000, making the net earnings for the year ending June 30th $975,000. About $1,500,000 surplus for the year.

Professor J. R. Dodge, the statistician, has been detailed by Secretary Busk to investigate the agricultural statistics of the States and Territories of the Rocky mountain region. He will leave Washington next week.

The Charleston will be ready for another trial trip in about one month. That she will be a great success there is not the shadow of a doubt.

The cost of the new war vessel to be built by the Union Iron Works will be $1,625,950.

Walker Blaine denies that his father intends to resign.

WEIGHED AND FOUND WANTING.

States That Have Tried and Repudiated Prohibition.

Chicago Tribune.

Illinois enacted prohibition in 1855, but repudiated it at the polls in the same year. New York passed the law in 1854, tried it for two years, and gave it up as a bad job.

Massachusetts tried prohibition for fifteen years, and repealed it as vain and injurious.

An effort to restore prohibition in Massachusetts was voted down by an overwhelming majority April 22, 1889.

Atlanta tried the law for one year and repudiated it by an overwhelming majority in November, 1887. The injury to the city was incalculable.

Connecticut enacted the law in 1854, tried in vain to enforce it for eighteen years, and then finally repealed it forever in 1872.

Ohio enacted prohibition in 1855, and, after a few months of bitter experience, repealed it.

Maryland passed a prohibitory law in 1855. The results were so disastrous, both to material and moral welfare, that, after a few months' trial, it was repealed, and the lesson was so severe, that the question has never been raised again in that State.

New Hampshire tried prohibition for thirty-four years. April 12, 1889, an effort was made to incorporate it into her constitution. This was voted down by an enormous majority, only two counties in the State giving a majority in favor of prohibition.

Delaware tried it in 1855, and after two years found that it so affected the welfare of the State that it was repealed in 1857.

The Independent Anti-Prohibition Republicans and Democrats of Iowa, are united for the purpose of overthrowing prohibition.

The law was twice passed in Wisconsin and twice vetoed by the Governor, with unanimous support of the people. Since then the State has been untroubled by fanaticism.

Rhode Island enacted prohibition in 1853, and after ten years' trial repudiated the law in 1863. She again enacted it last year and is now trying to get rid of it, after one year of financial and moral disaster. The Legislature has by almost unanimous vote decided to re-submit the matter to the people.

Michigan passed the law in 1853 and kept it for twenty-two years, when, finding the futility of attempting to enforce prohibitory measures, she abandoned it in 1875. The fanatics tried to saddle the law upon her again this year, but her people would not have it, and overruled it at the polls.

Indiana and Nebraska in 1855 passed prohibitory measures, but neither of them kept prohibition upon their statute books for any length of time. Indiana voted on the question again in 1882, and the amendment was defeated by the biggest majority cast in that State for twenty years.

Texas cast 93,000 majority against the effort to force a prohibitory amendment to her Constitution.

An effort was made to force the law on Tennessee in 1857. The people, after a thorough discussion, resolved not to put it into their Constitution.

Oregon submitted the amendment in 1857. The amendment was buried under an avalanche of votes.

In November, 1855, West Virginia voted on prohibition. The question was thoroughly discussed, investigations into the workings of the law in other States were made, and the amendment was defeated by a vote of three to one.

Canada has tried prohibition. The law was passed, and on a reconsideration of the question April 3, 1889, the voters slaughtered prohibition from Lake Erie to the Bay of Fundy. Every city and town in Canada which voted that day repealed prohibition.

In Iowa in 1880 there were 3,034 Government licenses issued for the sale of liquor. In 1880, under prohibition, the number had increased to 4,032—an increase of 998. It is not within the limits of reason that any man would pay for a license unless he meant to use it.

For the year ending April 30, 1881, before prohibition, 1,884 Government licenses to sell liquor were issued in Kansas. In the year ending April 30, 1887, after five years of prohibition, 2,937 licenses were issued; in other words, there were 1,053 more places selling liquor in the year ending April 30, 1887 under prohibition, than in the year ending April 30, 1881, before the enactment of the law. There had simply been a change of name from "saloon" to "drug store."

Maine has more liquor sellers in proportion to population than many licensed States. Rhode Island has one liquor seller to every 243 men. (See Internal Revenue Reports.)

Importance of the Dairy Business.

Chatting recently with ex-Senator Warner Miller he told me that the dairy business was the largest single industry in the United States. The facts are simply stupendous, when they are considered, as I found by questioning a leading merchant in the produce line to-day. He told me that there is over $2,000,000,000 invested in dairying, an amount almost double the money invested in banking and commercial enterprise. It is estimated that it requires 15,000,000 cows to supply the demand for milk and its products in the United States. To feed these cows 60,000,000 acres of land are under cultivation. The agriculture and dairy machinery and implements in use are worth over $200,000,000. The men employed in the business number 750,000, and the horses over 1,000,000. The cows and horses consume annually 30,000,000 tons of hay, nearly 90,000,000 bushels of corn-meal, about the same amount of oatmeal, 275,000,000 bushels of oats, 2,000,000 bushels of bran, and 30,000,000 bushels of corn, to say nothing of the brewery grains, sprouts, and other questionable feed of various kinds that are used to a great extent. It costs $450,000,000 to feed these cows and horses. The average paid to the labor necessary in the dairy business is probably $20 a month, amounting to $180,000,000 a year. The average cow yields about 450 gallons of milk a year, which gives a total product of 6,750,000,000 gallons. Twelve cents a gallon is a fair price to estimate the value of this milk at—a total return to the dairy farmers of $810,000,000, if they sold all their milk as milk. But 50 per cent. of the milk is made into cheese and butter. It takes 27 pounds of milk to make 1 pound of butter, and about 10 pounds to make 1 of cheese. This is $450,000,000 amount of nutrition in 8 1/2 pounds of milk that there is in 1 pound of beef. A fat steer furnishes 50 per cent. of boneless beef, but it would require about 24,000,000 steers, weighing 1,500 pounds each, to produce the same amount of nutrition as the annual milk product does.—New York Graphic.

"Your husband looks like a man of great self-control," remarked Mrs. Gadd to Mrs. Gabb. "Well, he hadn't much when I married him," replied Mrs. Gabb, "but," she added, with a cold-steel look in her gray eye, "he's getting it."—New York Weekly.

ORDINANCE NO. 35.

An Ordinance Prohibiting the Piling, Storing and Keeping Wood and Lumber Within the Fire Limits of Reno.

BY VIRTUE OF THE POWER CONFERRED upon by the laws of the State of Nevada, the Board of County Commissioners in and for Washoe county, do hereby say as follows:

Section 1. That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons within the fire limits of the town of Reno, as defined by Ordinance No. 73, to pile, store or keep any wood, lumber, old or new, or any collection of lumber in any form, excepting such as may be necessary for domestic use, or for the actual construction of any building being, or hereafter to be constructed, within said limits, providing nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to prohibit the loading, unloading and transfer of the same within said limits, in the usual course of business traffic.

Sec. 2. Any person or persons who shall be guilty of a violation of any of the provisions of the foregoing section, ten days after the first publication of this ordinance, on conviction thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty dollars, nor to exceed two hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the County Jail not less than thirty days, nor to exceed six months, or both such fine and imprisonment, and on failure to pay the same, the same shall be levied by the Sheriff of the County to remove all such wood, lumber or other collection named in Section one, at the expense of the owner thereof, and to collect such expense as provided by law.

T. J. JULIEN, Clerk.

Uncle George Tully has sufficiently recovered to again be seen at the Capitol building.

Jim Kinkead, Ass't Superintendent of the Occidental mine, was down from the Comstock Sunday.

Ex-Governor Kinkead returned from San Francisco yesterday morning and continued on to Carson.

Mrs. F. D. Stadtmuller, of San Francisco, came up Sunday morning on a visit to her sister, Mrs. W. O. H. Martin.

Senator Spruille, of Elko, who has been taking in the sights of the western part of the State, returned to Elko yesterday.

Mrs. H. N. A. Mason and daughter arrived last week on a visit to Mrs. O. H. E. Hardin, and will stop several weeks.

Tom Barnett is in the old place morning, noon and night. The old pioneer will sell you anything you want and at reasonable prices.

Aiken has sold his steam engine and boiler to Amos Lane, of Sierraville, and Aiken went below last night to buy a new one for himself.

The Verdi Mill Co.'s box factory is now running 14 hours out of the 24. As soon as the electric light can be put in the factory will run night and day.

Zeb Mereshon again won the prize for the best dancer at Carson Sunday. Zeb is winning so many prizes he will soon be able to give a picnic himself.

Postmaster Hagerman has moved the box stand forward several feet, which gives the clerks a chance to move around among the mail bags in the rear of the office.

It is said that Senator Stewart contemplates building a home in Reno at an early day, and it is not unlikely that Senator Jones will some day make his home in Reno.

It is said a new four-story hotel will be built on the old theatre corner and the lots adjoining. The plant will represent $125,000 and D. H. Haskell is engineering the scheme, which is a good one.

The Cooke corner has been leased to Handrup for the coming two years. The upper story will be fitted up for club rooms for Dick Kelly, Dolph Shane and Scotty Hart. They intend to have elegant rooms.

Johnny Pothoff yesterday commenced work on his new two-story brick livery stable, on the lots in the rear of the former stable, and exactly opposite the Russ House. He bought the lots from D. H. Haskell.

The Independent says the aggregate value of the assessable property of Elko county this year will exceed that of 1888 by several thousand dollars. Elko county is steadily but surely increasing in wealth, and is one of the most prosperous counties in Nevada.

Next Friday a party of Nevada school-teachers will leave Reno for a month's camping trip. The names of the pedagogues are: R. Lowers, of Dayton; A. Harris, of Silver City; E. Wintrey, of Wadsworth, and H. Lowers, of Washoe. They will travel in a four-in-hand, will take in Yosemite Valley and the Big Trees, and expect to be gone a month or six weeks.

At the late annual meeting of the Overman 83,417 shares were represented, and the following officers elected: W. V. Steison, President; Maurice Schmitt, Vice President; J. P. Martin, George D. Edwards and Sol Heydenfeldt, Trustees. George D. Edwards was re-elected Secretary, and Albert Loekey, Superintendent. The Secretary's financial statement showed a credit of $3,412 68.

RIVERSIDE REFLECTIONS.

Reno Streets and Truckee Meadows—Dry Moon Effects—Rural Ramblings—Inyo Marble—Tall Sisters—Incidental Items.

(Enterprise Correspondence)

Reno, July 13, 1889.—People here in Reno say this is a dry moon; also, that the last moon was inclined that way, and the chances are that the next one may be afflicted with a similar degree of aridity. Anyhow, the Truckee river, where the bridges cross it here in town, amounts to a mere nothing, the water being principally diverted by the ranch irrigating ditches branching north and south above town. Of course the numerous ranchers throughout the broad valley have the principal benefit of the water, yet Reno itself has its share, also the flourishing mills and the Reduction Works. But the fact is especially apparent that there is very little water to spare for any other possible purpose at the present time. The limit is very observable.

RURAL EMBELLISHMENTS.

Reno has never ceased to progress since its first house was built; slowly but surely it has gone ahead and kept on doing so, as all similar railroad towns generally do. Trees and shrubbery abound, and it is really a handsome place. The heart of the district is being actively rebuilt, and the ground removed in cellar and foundation excavations being largely composed of washed stones and gravel, it is utilized as street filling. In fact, the principal part of the townsite and vicinity is on a river wash foundation—a sort of cross between macadamized roads and cobblestone pavements. Everywhere throughout the valley the farmers are engaged in cutting and stacking their first crop of alfalfa, and directly the barley harvest will commence. Owing to the unusual dryness of the season, the crops generally will hardly come up to the average, yet there will be enough for all. Wild roses and green shrubbery line both sides of the railroad, and a more agreeable ride than between the Comstock lodge and Truckee river can hardly be imagined.

PURE WHITE MARBLE.

During the past few days several huge blocks of splendid white marble from the famous quarry in Inyo county have found their way over the Carson & Colorado Railroad, and passed through Reno on the way to San Francisco. It is as white as the driven snow, and Barrett, the stone-cutter, and other competent judges, pronounce it the finest and best marble for all purposes found on the American Continent. Marble importations from Vermont or anywhere else are nowhere needed.

INCIDENTALS.

One of the tallest young ladies in the State resides in Reno. She is the shortest of her kind, is 23 years old and weighs 215 pounds, and stands six feet and one inch high in her stockings. Frank Golden and other good-looking Comstockers gaze upon her admiringly as she passes along. Reno's public reading room and library flourishes well, and all the chief papers of the Pacific Coast are found there, including the Enterprise, of course. The hardware store here are all rich and have money to loan, but the grocers and dry goods men are too numerous for any special wealth in that line.

Hon. Thomas Fitch, the argenterous linguist, having settled down here permanently as a legal luminary and agricultural savant, has bought him some choice sections of landed estates in the suburbs of Reno, rich in cobble stones and alfalfa nutriment. He has started a hop-vine and fig-tree shade of his own, and will doubtless be heard from between now and the close of the coming election.

To-morrow, by official and special invitation, I shall probably associate myself with the public of Carson, the Comstock and vicinity at the annual picnic of the Chosen Friends, to be enjoyed at Tradway's famous park, within the city limits of the State Capital—the picnic city of Nevada. A. P. DOREY.

Death of Joe McClane.

Joe McClane, at one time well known in Esmeralda county, where he was foreman of the Northern Belle, at Candelaria, for many years, died last Saturday at Oya-ma, in San Diego county, California. Several days prior to his death he had been bitten by a rattlesnake, and drank quantities of whiskey to counteract the effects of the poison.

Three or four days before death his appetite failed him, and he offered his horses and backboard to any one who would give him a pistol to kill himself with, as he was suffering horribly. Joe McClane was a man of many good parts, and had as many experiences on the Pacific Coast as usually falls to the lot of a pioneer. He leaves a son and daughter to mourn him, the former living at Reno and the latter in San Francisco.

Syrup of Figs.

The annual meeting of the California Syrup of Figs Company was held in Reno yesterday, and R. E. Queen, Thos. E. Hayden, J. J. Quinn, J. F. Condon and W. T. Fonda elected Trustees for the ensuing year. R. E. Queen was elected President; T. E. Hayden, Vice President; J. J. Quinn, Secretary. The Co. is doing a fine business. This year's business is expected to reach a million bottles.

Grand Jury.

The members of the Grand Jury are notified by W. O. H. Martin, Foreman, to meet at the Court House at 10 A. M., on the 18th (Thursday). The following gentlemen will please take notice:

W. R. Chamberlain, E. Robbins, Thos. Barnett, Sol. Levy, A. A. Evans, E. B. Coffin, C. J. Brookins, R. W. Parry, A. Benson, D. C. Wheeler, B. F. Bobo, H. P. Kratt, A. Banta, J. A. McNeill, H. M. Frost, F. H. Mulesky, W. O. H. Martin.

Every business man should have his card in the JOURNAL'S Reno Directory.

ENCOURAGE THE MUSICIANS.

Hopes That a Liberal Premium Will Be Offered for the Best Band at the State Fair.

The Silver State has this:

It is expected that the State Agricultural Society will encourage the development of musical talent in Nevada, by offering a liberal premium for the best band at the State Fair next Fall. Every town of any consequence in the State has a band, and, as a general rule, the citizens of those towns have as much pride in the band as in any other local organization, for music bath charms always. There is no reason why music should not receive more encouragement than marksmanship, as it is intended to soothe instead of to wound or kill.

If the State Fair managers offer a premium large enough to make the object for bands and musical entertainers to compete for this year, it will prove one of the most attractive cards on the programme. Eight or ten bands will compete, and the town who rescue with music. Many citizens will take pride in their local bands will visit the Fair to encourage them, but as this is a country of "magnificent distasteful" a premium of less than $500 will not warrant bands from Winnemucca, Austin, Eureka, Elko and Tascara to go to Reno, pay an entrance fee and compete for the prize.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. Feb. 21-st-ly.

Lyon County Fair.

The Lyon County Times says: Is it not about time that the Directors of the Lyon County Fair were taking some action to let the public know that we are going to have a fair? There is but something over a month now until fair time, and there is a great deal to do to make a fair a success. It takes time to arrange everything so that the programme will pass off smoothly. There is no doubt but Lyon County can make an exhibition that can be excelled by no county in the State. The State has hoped out to a certain extent by making an appropriation for the fair, and the citizens must do the balance. If every one would take a little interest in this matter and pull together, Lyon county can have a fair that it would pay people to go a long ways to attend.

Lilly Clay's Company.

The success of Lilly Clay's Colossal Gaiety Company at the Olympic Theatre during this week has been phenomenal. Many people have been so delighted with the show that they have not missed a night. One enthusiastic, who was of Eberlin extraction, remarked: "I have been to see Lilly Clay's company every night, except one, when there was a matinee in the afternoon." He was evidently a big Olympic stock.—St. Paul, Minn., Globe.

S. Wenban, the millionaire of the Cortez mine, was in town Sunday. His family will remain at the Riverside a few days. Mr. Wenban left for the mines yesterday morning.

Weak Hearts.

A weak heart seems to be decidedly more practically inconvenient than a weak head. If a man or a woman be a little feeble about the region of the brain, it is generally of little moment. Some post or other will be provided if the conduct be respectable; and lack of brains is too common to excite any particular attention either in the person concerned or in those about him. But a weak heart insists upon putting itself in evidence at all sorts of convenient and inconvenient times. If its possessor finds himself rather late for his morning train, and makes a "spurt" to cover lost time, the exertion is usually followed by such a "bad quarter of an hour" that he resolves in future rather to lose a dozen trains than to risk temporary suffocation or permanent syncope again. The practical evils which are associated with a feeble heart are innumerable, and will readily suggest themselves to those who possess so unsatisfactory a pumping engine. Weak hearts are very by no means so common as is often supposed. Many a man who thinks he has got one is merely dyspeptic; many a woman owes her symptoms to light lazing or insufficient feeding. If the dyspepsia be cured, or the light lazing be dispensed with, the symptoms of heart weakness will disappear. Even when the heart is genuinely "weak," the weakness is not always due to special disease of that organ. It may be only part of a general weakness of the whole system, which is easily curable. The late Sir Robert Christison, one of the most eminent of British physicians, used to smile at certain persons who were always complaining of weak hearts. "Gentlemen," he would say to his student who lecturing on digitalis, "the best tonic for a weak heart is a good brisk walk." Not a doubt of it. The majority of weak, flabby hearts are weak and flabby because every other muscle in the body is weak and flabby, and this general weakness and flabbiness is due to want of vigorous use. Exercise of the legs and back and arms gives additional and much needed exercise to the heart, and the heart grows strong by vigorous exercise exactly as every other muscular organ does; for the heart is a muscle. If a man has no organic disease of the heart, no enlargement, and no functional disorder, plenty of brisk walking, with occasional running, will soon dispel his breathlessness and heart weakness, other things being equal. The muscular inactivity of the modern town man is the parent of more ill health than any other single cause whatever.—Hospitals.

Marysville Fair Banks.

MARYSVILLE, July 13th.—Mayor Slattery last night instructed the City Marshal to close the two fair banks that had been running here for a long time. The order was enforced at 10 o'clock, when the games were closed. No gambling games will be permitted henceforth.

The Elko Free Press says:

More work for the lawyers. The lessors of the Dexter mine, Tascara, stopped about $10,000 worth of Elko ore, en route to Reno, Monday, claiming that it was taken from the Dexter ledge. The two mines join. Geo. Smith, the owner of the ore, gave bonds for its release.

Varian in and "Clove" Left. The President has appointed Charles S. Varian, of Utah, Attorney of the United States for the Territory of Utah, and Elias H. Parsons, of Utah, Marshal of the United States for the Territory of Utah.

Notice.

On and after Monday, June 24th, I will sell Soda and Saraparilla at 75 cents per case, two (2) dozen in case. Send in your orders. GEORGE BECKMAN.

WHAT ON EARTH

Is the reason people will not, can not or do not use any difference in cheap nostrums put up by Cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BLOOD PURIFIER AND BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work will eat you nothing. CROSBY & SHOEMAR R. Druggists.

When Liaby was sick,
We gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child,
She cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss,
She clung to Castoria.
When she had Children,
She gave them Castoria.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients. Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of "One Hundred Doses" in a single bottle. "One Hundred Doses" require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "goodname at home"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad. No other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Do not be misled by other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. L. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. 100 Doses One Dollar
